

In Harrisburg: Senate Okays Board Change

HARRISBURG (AP) — On a party line vote the Senate approved Monday night Gov. Scranton's proposed legislation that would set up a separate state Board of Education to control school policy.

Republicans produced a bare constitutional majority of 26 votes to send the plan to the House. Nineteen Democrats opposed it.

Only a week ago Democrats refused to yield a single vote for the board of education legislation and the GOP was one short of the necessary constitutional majority. The bill was defeated, but recalled for action on a parliamentary maneuver.

The final vote came after the GOP senators again turned down proposed Democratic amendments. As it went to the House the bill would provide for a 17-member state board of education.

The state board would consist of separate seven-member councils of higher education and basic education and three other members, all named by the governor.

Policy-Making Board

The board would assume all of the policy-making authority for education at the state level. The Department of Public Instruction, which presently sets education policy together with the State Council of Education, would be relegated to administrative functions only.

In opposing the plan Democrats contended, as they did last week, that the Republicans were trying to rush the bill.

Democrats were particularly critical of the removal of the public instruction department from policy-making functions.

"If this legislation is aimed at the superintendent, a committee should ask Dr. Charles H. Boehm, to resign," said William J. Lane, D-Washington.

"We do think you are making a mistake rushing into this matter," said Minority Leader Charles R. Weiner, D-Phila. He said some people see the measure as "really trying to get the superintendent of public instruction."

Majority Leader James S. Berger contended the plan has been under discussion four or five years. He pointed out it has been endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, Governor's Committee of 100 for Better Education and other groups.

Want Vote Reversed: Union May Drop Aid To Striking Printers

NEW YORK (AP) — The 3,000 striking New York printers were confronted Monday with the prospect of going it alone in any continuation of the city's 101-day newspaper blackout. Their own international union threatened to pull the rug out from under them.

The printers Sunday overrode their leadership and rejected a $12.53 a week settlement proposal agreed to by publishers of eight major New York dailies. They voted in effect to continue their strike until they got more.

Elmer Brown, president of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said serious consideration was being given to halting financial support to striking New York Local 6 unless the vote were reversed.

Decision Already Made

The decision already has been made as to whether to withdraw financial support, Brown added, but will not be announced for a few days.

Local 6 leaders late in the day set up new negotiations with the publishers.

Brown called the $12.53 contract proposal "a fair and reasonable one which should have been accepted by the membership."

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Clem H. Dozer

"Jesus went before them . . ."

We read in the Gospel according to St. Mark 10:32: "And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them; and they were amazed and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him." Christ knew from the beginning that he would have to face death on the Cross in order to complete the plan of redemption.

In St. John 10:17 "Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to take it again . . ."

Christ gave his life as a ransom for our sins not as one being forced to trial and execution, but as a mighty warrior going forth to conquer the worst enemy mankind can have. Namely, Sin and Death.

How was he to accomplish these things? In Hebrews 9:26 we read: "Now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by sacrifice of himself." It was His death that atoned for our sins.

Kennedy Pledges: 'We Will Build A Wall Around Cuba'

PARADING PRESIDENTS—Presidents John F. Kennedy of the United States and Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica wave to crowds as they ride in open car through streets of San Jose, Costa Rica, following Kennedy's arrival.

Welcome By Costa Ricans Tremendous

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—President Kennedy pledged Monday night to isolate Castro's Cuba and bar the infiltration of Communist agents into the rest of the Americas.

"We will build a wall around Cuba—not a wall of mortar or brick or barbed wire but a wall of dedicated men determined to protect their own freedom and sovereignty," he declared.

On the heels of what security officials called the greatest welcoming ovation in Costa Rica's history, Kennedy opened his three day meeting with the presidents of six Latin America nations vowing "fierce and unyielding resistance" to the spread of "foreign tyranny" in the Western Hemisphere.

"The Soviet Union through its Cuban puppets absorbed the Cuban nation into its despotic empire and it now seeks to extend its rule to the shores of continental America," Kennedy said.

"At the Organization of American States, at this meeting and wherever Americans gather to consult about the future of their continent, we will continue to strengthen the structure of resistance to subversion."

Leading Nations

Kennedy addressed the presidents of Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, El Salvador, Honduras and Guatemala—all avowed enemies of Fidel Castro and targets of his subversion—after receiving a rapturous welcome from an estimated 200,000 people. Costa Ricans swept security officials aside and broke up a presidential procession in an air of fiesta.

Speaking in Costa Rica's ornate national theater, Kennedy defined the goals of the San Jose conference as "the preservation of our independence, the extension of freedom and the elevation of the welfare of our citizens to a level as high as we can attain."

"With the help of dedicated and brave men, we will ultimately triumph over aggressors of today. Democracy rules in most of our lands and it will ultimately prevail over the last vestiges of tyranny in every land in this hemisphere," he said.

Kennedy pledged continued U.S. aid toward a developing Central American economic community of 13 million people and congratulated the Central American countries

STEEL UNION MAPS PLANS — Leaders of the United Steelworkers union meet in Philadelphia. There is a strong possibility the union's executive board may ask for the reopening of contract talks with the steel industry. Left to right are I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer; Howard R. Hague, international vice president and David J. McDonald, president.

Steel Workers May Seek Raise

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union maintained official silence Monday on whether his union will seek higher wages from the basic steel industry.

The union can reopen its present two-year contract any time after April 30 and seek more pay, better pensions, higher insurance. And, failing in their demands, can strike 90 days after reopening.

What's ahead? McDonald parried all queries at a news conference, saying only that the union's Wage Policy Committee hadn't been summoned to meet—and only he can call the 172 members together.

McDonald was in Philadelphia for a two-day meeting of the steelworkers' Executive Committee.

Not On Agenda

He insisted that the questions of wages in the year ahead wasn't even on the agenda.

Asked about wages he would only say: "A top-level meeting of the Human Relations Committee will be held in Pittsburgh this Thursday at 2 p.m."

Beyond that, he said, "I will have nothing further to say."

The Human Relations Committee, set up in January, 1960, is a joint management-labor group that discusses problems in the steel industry and tries to work out solutions.

McDonald was asked whether he

In Test Ban Talks: Inspection Issue Still Sore Thumb

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union said Monday that Western insistence on more than three on-site inspections a year will inevitably lead to a breakdown of the nuclear test ban negotiations.

The Soviet disarmament negotiator, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, also warned the neutral bloc at the 17-nation talks against bringing pressure on the Soviet Union to raise its inspection quota offer.

The gray-haired Soviet negotiator became involved in a bitter clash with U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelle on the inspection issue. He ignored Stelle's detailed exposition on what the United States understands by inspection and refused to be drawn into any discussion of inspection procedure.

Stelle referred to Tsarapkin's repeated warnings that the Soviet inspection offer might be withdrawn altogether unless the United States and Britain accept it soon. The U.S. delegate recalled Tsarapkin's recent remark that "There is still no agreement that there will be inspections" at all.

Theme Of Letters

Stelle said Soviet acceptance of on-site inspection was the main theme of the letters exchanged between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev in January. "I hope the Soviet representative will clarify this for us right now," Stelle said.

Tsarapkin ignored the appeal, and instead repeated a Soviet charge frequently rejected by the United States: That former U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean himself suggested two or three inspections in a private conversation with Soviet delegates last November.

"This was accepted by the Soviet Union. Now the United States is trying to bargain for a greater number of inspections, and this can have no result but the breakdown of the negotiations," Tsarapkin declared.

Stelle said the Soviet delegate was merely repeating "a completely inaccurate statement."

"If the Soviet Union persists in its position and the negotiations

Nehru Says Red Invasion Has Cemented Relationships

NEW YORK (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru says the Chinese Communists' "wanton and massive invasion" of India last fall isolated Red China and lost her "the good will of most of the nonaligned countries, and even of many of her Communist allies."

Because of the Chinese actions, the Indian leader says, Indian-American relations "have seldom been as cordial as they are now."

"The deep sympathy and practical support received from the United States in meeting the Chinese aggression has created a wealth of good feeling," Nehru writes in Foreign Affairs, a quarterly of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Nehru depicts the Chinese invasion as an attack on the whole idea of nonalignment among nations, and says it may have been sparked in part by Peking's ideological quarrel with Moscow.

Accelerating Growth

"The impact of China, whether it again takes an acute military form or makes itself felt more insidiously, is forcing the pace of growth in India. Both the right and the left have been affected, and the nation as a whole is growing up."

It is learning that in the world today it is not enough to be devoted to peace or to mind one's own affairs, but that it is also necessary to have adequate armed strength, to adjust our relations with friendly countries in the light of the changing realities of the international situation, and, above all, to preserve and consolidate national unity.

"The Communist party of India is in disarray and the great majority of it has condemned the Chinese aggression."

Nehru says that since India became independent of Britain in 1947 it has been guided by a policy of nonalignment, which, he adds, implied cultivating friendly cooperation with all countries and helping to keep world peace.

Brought New Element

"The wanton and massive invasion of last autumn has, however, brought an incalculable, ominous and explosive new element into the situation," Nehru goes on. "Peking's propagandists have tried to sow confusion in the public mind over this, but no amount of sophistry can conjure away the fact that the People's Republic of China is guilty of premeditated aggression."

The Indian leader sees a glimmer of light amid the dark clouds of global cold war, as a result of the Cuban crisis last fall which brought the world to "the thermo-nuclear brink."

"It may be that the cold war and the East-West antagonism of the 1950s will be gradually softened and transformed by the new pressures that have emerged within each bloc, as well as by the insistent demand of the 'uncommitted' countries for a systematic and worldwide assault on hunger, disease and ignorance," Nehru says.

U. S. Soothes Ire Of Ruffled Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brazil's ambassador sought and got State Department assurance Monday that its allegation that Communists have infiltrated Brazil's government was not timed to torpedo Brazil's urgent negotiations for more U.S. aid.

Ambassador Roberto Campos hurried to see Acting Secretary of State George Ball after Brazil's President Joao Goulart reacted angrily to last week's publication of State Department testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Latin American subcommittee.

In describing influence of the Communists in Brazil, the State Department set off a diplomatic storm by saying "in the government itself there has been infiltration." No details were given.

Campos did not deny Red infiltration of his government, but said there is no infiltration extensive enough to influence "in any way Brazilian government policies."

"All democracies and open societies are occasionally exposed to infiltration," he said, "and if my recollection is correct, there are a good many people who believe — with considerable exaggeration I'm sure — that the U.S. government also suffers from infiltration. Certainly the same has been said and can be said of some Western European governments."

The ambassador indicated to newsmen after his talk of nearly an hour with Ball that the issue is now simmering down. The State Department, with no desire to fan the controversy, declined public comment.

Campos said Brazil's finance minister, Francisco San Tiago Dantas, will continue his mission to get more U.S. help for Brazil's troubled economy.

High Court Rules On State Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court took another step Monday toward equalizing the ballot power of city voters with that of their country cousins.

It laid down in an 8-1 decision a "one voter, one vote" rule for statewide elections.

Out the window with it went Georgia's county unit system for nominating candidates for U. S. senator and state and judicial officers responsible to a statewide constituency. The system was used at times also in congressional elections.

It left on the book ready for killing in another legal action Maryland's county unit plan.

Maryland is the only other state having a plan similar to Georgia's.

Under the Georgia system the candidate winning a majority or plurality of a county's popular vote got all its unit votes. No county had less than two units and none more than six. Thus it was possible for a candidate to poll a popular-vote majority statewide but still lose in the unit tally.

Ruling Expected

The ruling apparently had been widely expected among Georgia politicians because it had been foreshadowed by a 1960 decision of a special three-man Federal court which forced conduct of last year's Democratic primary on a popular-vote basis.

In another decision, the Supreme Court ruled unanimously that states must provide defense attorneys in criminal trials of persons who cannot afford to hire lawyers.

In another case affecting prisoners' rights, the court held unanimously that drug-induced confessions are inadmissible as evidence, thus striking at the use of so-called truth serums on accused persons.

The county-unit decision, written by Justice William O. Douglas, was the court's first involving voter rights since a landmark case from Tennessee which was decided last March 26. In that case the court said federal judges have the right to review state legislative apportionment to determine whether invidious discrimination is involved against city and suburban voters.

Legislative apportionment was not involved in the Georgia case and this fact was stressed by Justice Potter Stewart in a concurring opinion in which Justice Tom C. Clark joined.

The legislative apportionment has brought a wave of litigation, but the Supreme Court has still not laid down any fixed guidelines for parceling out state legislative seats.

Other Cases Pending

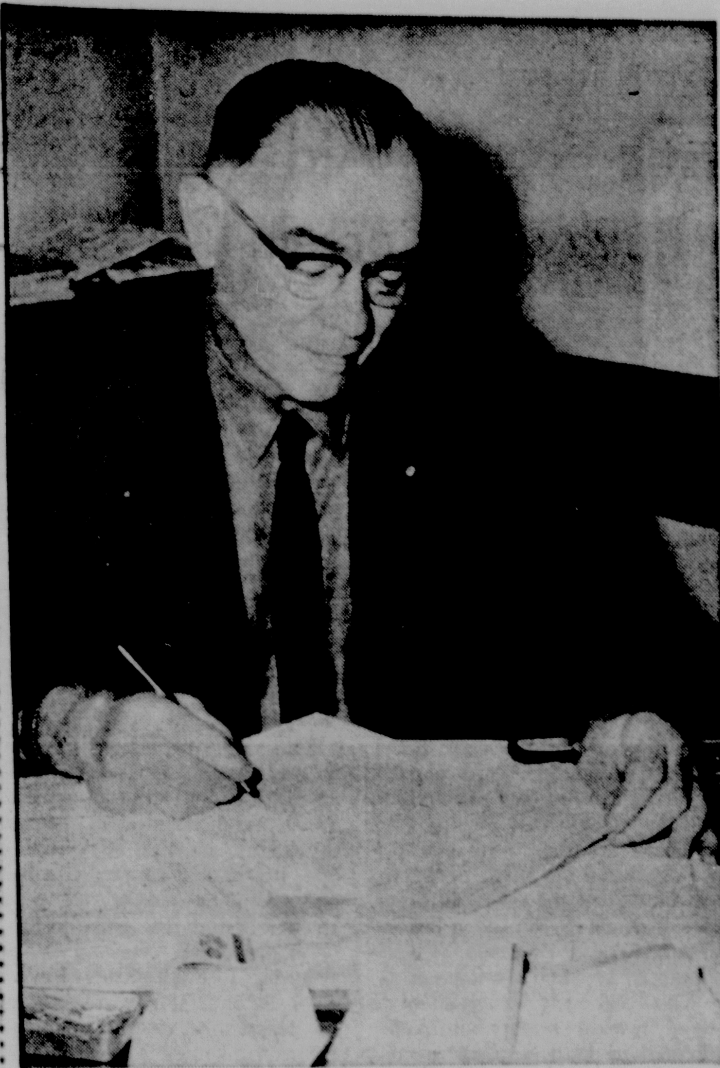

Several legislative apportionment cases are pending before the court. The court has not announced when they will be heard.

Georgia conducted its latest primary election without using the county-unit system.

Bicycle Time

With good weather coming, the millions of children who have their bicycles stored in garages and basements for the winter soon will be out riding them again, roaming the streets and highways.

And if they don't know the proper, safe way to handle their bikes, they can be a dangerous traffic hazard. Last year, 550 lives were lost in bicycle accidents, the most since 1949, according to the National Safety Council.

Most bicycle deaths fall in the 5-to-14 school-age group, so parents should be especially certain that they remind their children about safe bicycling habits before letting them ride to school.

The most important thing to remember is that in most places, a bicycle is considered a vehicle and must obey the same traffic regulations as cars.

Cyclists should ride on the right side of the road, obey all the traffic control signals, and use the proper hand and arm signals for turns and stopping.

They should ride in a single file, preferably, and never more than two abreast on a street. Stunting and showing-off should be saved for a yard or field.

A cyclist should never try to squeeze in between two lanes of traffic, whether the cars are moving or stopped. He should watch carefully for cars pulling into traffic and for sudden opening of car doors.

At busy streets, crosswalks, or intersections, it's safest to get off the bike and walk it across.

If a bike is ridden at night, it should be equipped with a light on the front and a reflector on the rear. The cyclist himself should wear white or light-colored clothing after dark.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Should Retain Driver Tests

There may be merit in the contention of Revenue Secretary Smith and Police Commissioner Purdy that "re-evaluation" of the administration of the state's program on physical re-examination of automobile drivers is necessary.

Secretary Smith accordingly has ordered the program suspended for the time being. No decision as to the future course of action will be taken until a new traffic safety director has been chosen to fill the post held for a number of years by O. D. (Mike) Shipley.

But we hope that whatever faults may have developed in the administration of the physical re-examination program will not influence the new administration to seek to repeal the

Watching The Fuse

The worst thing about the Administration's recent misadventures in foreign policy may be certain secondary effects that could become apparent a year or two from now.

The denial of the Skybolt missile to England was nothing fatal in itself. But it led to the downgrading of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's popularity with British voters, and this could have far-reaching effects.

Unfortunately, the blow to Macmillan's prestige virtually coincided with the death of the extremely temperate Labour Party Leader, Hugh Gaitskill, who was slated to become Prime Minister in case of a Conservative defeat.

The Labour Party, seeking a vital new spokesman, chose Harold Wilson—and if it turns out that U.S. foreign military policy has been the unwitting agent of making Macmillan so unpopular that he must yield the control of Britain to Mr. Wilson, it could be bad news indeed for the entire free world.

Unlike Mr. Gaitskill, who considered that nationalization of the British economy had gone far enough, Mr. Wilson would apparently revive the primitive class war attitudes that were the hallmark of Labour's policy in the days of Aneurin Bevan.

Mr. Wilson has been something of a "soft on Russia" man, something of a unilateral bomb-bomb man, at least to the extent of currying the support of the neutralist faction in the Labour Party. But it is Mr. Wilson's economic philosophy that promises to be really harmful to the cause of a strong and productive Western Alliance.

He has been quoted, by the influential and customarily accurate London Economist, as believing in a State-controlled economy that would set up a system of State-guaranteed orders.

Taking a leaf out of the disastrous American agricultural support policy, Mr. Wilson would have the British government ensure full employment by buying up any and all important industrial surpluses that fail to sell.

Any superfluous amount of steel for example, would be taken off the market by the government and put into a stockpile, to be shipped at dumping rates to underdeveloped countries.

A similar plan was once offered in Washington by the New Deal economist Mordecai Ezekiel, if my memory of the nostrums of the Thirties is correct. No more certain way of saddling an economy with a permanent market - destroying glut could be conceived. If this offers a key to the true temper of Harold Wilson's thinking, the defeat of the British Conservative Party in the next election could set the world back some thirty years.

The Pennsylvania Story

Scranton Losing Off The Record

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — A growing number of Republican administration lawmakers are chafing at the bit over what they feel is a lack of decisive and formative leadership on the part of Governor Scranton.

This may well be the first break in the almost solid wall of support that since his election last November has surrounded Republican Governor William Warren Scranton.

Administration Legislative leaders pool-pool the very thought of such a feeling on the part of their rank and file members — a reaction of course that for public consumption could hardly be otherwise!

Nevertheless the irked, nettled, frustrated and exasperated feeling is there among many of the lesser lights of the GOP legislative blocs — a feeling that perhaps reflects a reaction that basically is almost inescapable with a spanking new in office administration.

However in this instance the feeling seemingly is generated that Mr. Scranton simply is not living up to even the minimal leadership expectations of a new chief executive!

An illustration of what some of these lawmakers are driving at developed not too long ago when after Republicans had helped defeat an amendment to a bill — they learned later that the administration really wasn't opposed to the amendment after all!

Mr. Scranton has talked from time to time about the need for removing or curtailing some of the programs and services provided by state government that might be classed as non-essential, duplicating or completely unnecessary (a point referred to again at his last press conference, incidentally).

Administration lawmakers want to know "what" programs and services might be in the offing for curtailment or elimination — not necessarily because it can't be done without legislative approval (in most cases it can) but because they want to know the ins and outs and details of administration policy so they may be guided accordingly.

As one irked administration legislative "supporter" phrased it:

"This may have been the way they did things down there in Congress when he (Scranton) was a member of that august body — but it isn't the way we do it back here; that is, not if you want to get things done."

Or, there's the case of the bulky and subsequently controversial report (released last week by the Governor with a covering "statement") of the investigation into the explosion in the Robena (Greene County) mine last December that took 37 lives — what was his "stand" regarding the report?

There was none — other than the (usual) allowance that the report would be "carefully studied" — and lawmakers are going to be confronted with the "Robena case" for some time to come!

The Allen-Scott Report Drastic Foreign Aid Slash Believed Certain

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — It is now virtually certain that President Kennedy's $1.9 billion foreign aid budget will be drastically slashed by Congress — probably in half.

This year's cut will be the deepest in the history of foreign aid budgets.

The pending $4.9 billion spending program has become the fiercest embattled target of a crossfire from two powerful groups in Congress — conservative and liberal members of both parties.

The first group, comprising economy-demanding lawmakers, is led by Representative Otto Passman, D-La., chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee handling foreign aid, and Representative Frank Bow, O., ranking Republican on this committee.

This bipartisan group, which also constitutes a majority of the full Appropriations Committee,

Speaking Of Your Health: If Your Child Faces Surgery

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

It's unbelievable. I'm almost 65 years old and I still haven't forgotten the nightmarish experience of my tonsil operation.

This is a rather common reaction of most adults. In the light of our newer understanding of children's feelings and fears the explanation is simple. As children they went to the hospital totally unprepared for what they were about to face. Well-meaning but misguided parents thought they were making things easier for their child by sparing him the truth. Most children were told little more than that they would have "lots of ice cream."

Suddenly Alone

Then, because of rigid hospital regulations, the child was suddenly left alone to cope with the stark reality of white-robed strangers who whisked him off to an unknown destiny in the operating room.

No one had told him he would have to fight off eerie white creatures while they forced anesthesia on him. When he called out for his parents, they were not there. How could he believe he would ever be returned to them?

Felt Deserted

From the child's point of view, he was tricked, betrayed and deserted by those whom he had always trusted. Imagine the terror in his heart.

Fortunately, today's young patient can have a totally different hospital experience. He is told

Dear Abby Right Church, Wrong Pew!

DEAR ABBY: I have been officially engaged (with a two-carat ring) to the same girl three times. Each time she has given me the ring back and says she's changed her mind. She just changes her mind. I have literally gotten down on my hands and knees and BEGGED her to marry me. I don't want to be put off any longer. She's not a child. She's 24 and I am 28. I am crazy about this girl and want to know how I can get her to marry me tomorrow.

IN LOVE

DEAR IN: You can't. It takes three days for a blood test in your state. Furthermore, an y fellow who has to get down on his hands and knees and BEG a girl to marry him should pray for better sense while he's in that position.

DEAR ABBY: Judging from the phone calls he gets, a married man in our office apparently has a girl friend. She calls the office and leaves her number for him to call back. Yesterday the man's wife called and said she suspected a woman was making contact with her husband at the office, and she asked if there had been any numbers left for him to call. The girl who answered the phone lied for the man and said no. I think she was wrong to protect a dirty, rotten home-wrecker. I have that number and am ready to call the wife and give it to her. My husband told me to keep my nose out of it. Should I?

DEAR HATES: Yes. Your husband is right.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Our far-flung frontiers continue to stretch to far-away places with strange-sounding names, made real and of immediate interest by familiar and favorite people.

Our newest acquisition is Nancy May, home on a flying visit from Korea. The first her father, Jonas, knew of the trip at all was by a telephone call from New York. It seems Nancy, who forsook the glamour and higher pay scale of teaching in Hawaii for the climate and economies of a mission school in Seoul, chaperoned a plane load of orphans of mixed parentage to this country, arriving Friday and with two weeks before she goes back.

That trip is something I hope she'll talk about tonight when one of her precious days at home is to be devoted to the church in which she was reared. Everybody in anxious to see her again—including her father.

Besides having what amounts to an epidemic of visitors from foreign shores in the news, we've also got a rash of fashion shows which this week are running at the rate of one a day. Well, there's the fashion show at Tobyhanna's Officers' Wives Club today; the Junior Woman's Club fashion show on Wednesday night and the Salvation Army's fashion show on Thursday night. No wonder I'm sick of my wardrobe.

But food not fashions was the order of my shopping. Meeting Mrs. James Reed with my cart filled higher than usual, I explained that I was having company for the weekend. "Good," she said enthusiastically, "I always enjoy your columns after you have company because such awful things happen."

For once, nothing traumatic did, outside of the ordinary mistakes like setting one too few places at the table and almost getting stuck in the mud when we went down to see if the ice had gone out of this river (it hadn't) but the breadheads was clear and filled with white-bottomed ducks with colored heads.

It was a relaxed and happy weekend with the Spite and Malice coming into the picture only when I tried to teach the new two-handed game to the company.

Brotherhood Supper Wed.

The L-Men (Brotherhood) of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will meet at 6:15 o'clock Wednesday for a covered dish supper. Roast turkey and coffee will be provided. Each man is asked to bring his own table service and a covered dish. Emmett W. Flyte, president, said last night that the men will remain for the Lenten Vesper Service following the supper hour.

Lenten Vespers

The fourth in the series of mid-week Lenten vesper services in Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock. Pastor Wunder will preach on the theme: "The Pardon of the Cross," using Luke 23:43 as the text for his Lenten meditation. Mrs. Robert Payne, Mrs. Ralph Potts, Stanley Woolbert and Ralph E. Potts will sing a Lenten aria "O Taste and See" by Wolff as a quartet. Robert E. Heller, Sr., Robert E. Heller, Jr., Randy J. Heller and Arthur Boushell will serve as ushers and Ricky Staples as acolyte.

Stroudsburg Neighborhood Leaders Study New Setup

The Stroudsburg Girl Scout Neighborhood met Thursday night in the lounge of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Elwood German, Neighborhood Chairman, presided. The meeting opened with an introduction of new members after which Miss Peggy Jean Davis, District Supervisor, taught a number of new songs. A number of Troops turned in their Juliette Law collections and Daisy Chains. Brownie Troop No. 332 had made their Chain in the form of Pot Holders to be used in the Council Camps. All Troops in the Neighborhood were invited to attend the Senior Festival in Scranton on Saturday. It is of special interest to the Intermediate and Brownie Troops because it will help to give them an insight into the fun waiting for them when they become Seniors themselves. There will be training for Troop Camp Councilors at Camp Treble the weekend of April 20-21. It is recommended that at least one representative from each troop take this training since no Troop may camp without one trained person.

Salvation Army To Present Fashion Show

On the March and ready to attack, the Salvation Army is planning a local invasion across the frontiers of fashion, that state of mind of which every style-conscious woman is a citizen.

D-day is Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Citadel on Washington St., East Stroudsburg, and this is the first such maneuver planned by the local Salvation Army. The models for the dress parade will wear coordinated outfits by Bobbie Brooks, Pettit, Susan Laurie, Joan Miller, American Junior and Alice Kaye. Styles will range over two seasons, spanning Easter and Springtime and summer-time fashions.

The Famous Department Store in East Stroudsburg will furnish the fashions. Recruited for modeling are: Nancy Baker, Susan Rossi, Beverly Taylor, Mrs. Pat Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Van Why, Bonnie Pipher and Mrs. Harry Smith. In the cadet department are Gary Baker, Rusty Wilson, Darlene Hinkle and Janice Monter.

Refreshments will be served. Tickets may be purchased from Salvation Army members or at the door. The 50 cent donation will aid the Army's Girl Guides and Sundae program. The public is invited to support this first venture of the Salvation Army in the field of fashions.

DAR Tours Two Newest United States

The Jacob Stroud Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution got a closer look at the newest of the United States through the commentaries and slides of Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Meyer at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Stroud Community House.

The Meyers have visited both Alaska and Hawaii and shared their experiences with the DAR members. In their commentary, they pointed out that Alaska, now our 49th state, was known as Seward's Folly when it was purchased for $7,200,000, but that it paid for itself in two years by its gold, fur and timber.

The travelogue dealt with the 2,000-mile trip they had taken last summer on the Princess Louise from Vancouver to Skagway, Alaska. This is the same route taken by thousands of pioneers who bought gold in the Klondike region beginning in 1898.

The slides included pictures of the ship and the ports it visited including Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Juneau and Skagway. The changing scenery was shown in colored slides of icebergs, glaciers, ice fields, large forests, islands, other ships and population centers.

The travelogue included human interest stories about the pioneers, Indians and their fellow travelers as well as the historical events which occurred along the inside passage.

In their description of the 50th state, Hawaii, they showed how it was composed of a number of islands located about 2,200 miles southwest of San Francisco. It can be reached by jet in 4½ hours or by boat in 4½ days.

Traveling by boat and plane, the Meyers took pictures of the island of Oahu on which Honolulu and Pearl Harbor are located; of Maui, the Valley Island; Kawai, the Garden Island and Hawaii, the orchid island.

Their slides featured volcanoes, industries and their products, and the a emery including the brilliant flowers, vegetation, modest homes and plush hotels, churches, and the natives themselves. They also told of their own three-weeks' experience in the Islands where the temperature is usually in the 70's.

In the absence of the chairman of National Defense, Mrs. Robert Smith, the report was given by Mrs. Irving Foltz who read an article from the National DAR Magazine pointing out the dangers of the nation substituting the United Nations Charter for the Constitution of the United States, a "Dream of peace for the fact of liberty".

The article said that if it had not been for our signing the UN Charter in 1938, the Platt Amendment would have made it possible to rid Cuba of Communism by legal means. The meeting followed a dessert with Mrs. George Marsh and Mrs. Russell Heller as co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Horace Fellenor and Mrs. Thomas Brietwieser.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

"Happiness is a Guy Named Joe," according to many a lady singer with a pulsating voice. "Happiness is a Warm Puppy," according to a guy named Charles M. Schulz, whose comic strip, "Peanuts" is circulated to newspapers far and wide by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. In fact, Mr. Schulz has written a book, primarily aimed at children but equally charming to adults, which tells us that happiness is many things . . . not just a warm puppy, but sleeping in your own bed . . . finding some one you like at the front door . . . a smooth sidewalk (if you're roller skating) . . . hiccups (after they've gone away) and scads of other things. Each little phrase is illustrated with a pen and ink drawing, featuring characters well known and much loved from Mr. Schulz's cartoons.

Many things the author calls happiness are indeed just that—to children. Some go double for adults. I wish he would write another book aimed at my age group, however, and if he needs suggestions, here are a few—"Happiness is 5:30 any work day . . . happiness is every other Tuesday (pay day) . . . happiness is having someone offer a compliment, and know they aren't just patting you on the back so they can pull your leg a bit later. Happiness is loving many things and some people very much, and one person in particular!"

Mr. Schulz's little book is priced at 2.00 in our Wyckoff book department; was published by a company named Determined Productions, Inc., and is really square. THAT'S its shape. Mr. Schulz himself is not a square . . . he seems like a pleasant, sensitive guy.

MOTHERS ON PARADE—

Our Fashion department is now showing smart maternity dresses to enable prospective mothers to look their very loveliest in the Easter parade. From Toni Lynn, there's a 2-pc. navy, sizes 6 to 14, of Cupioni cloth with cutout skirt and loose fitting blouse. Empire styling is suggested by a flat bow of the same fabric and other detail just below the bust. The V-neckline has an attractive vestee of white lace. Just 12.00.

Another style is of houndstooth, either gray or beige 50% rayon-50% arnel, completely washable. The trim is grosgrain ribbon. In sizes 8 to 14 these are 15.00. In larger sizes, 16, 18, and 20, there are turquoise 2-pieces with white pique trim, also 15.00. In sizes 38 and 40, at 13.00 there is still another navy costume of slubbed fabric with white collar set off by navy and red.

When the stork is due AFTER the bunny is to arrive, these pretty maternities are a marvelous way for young matrons to look their most enchanting in the Easter Parade.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — It is comfortable to stay with certain practices and situations. But, if it was a prudent decision to follow your routine habits, etc., make common-sense changes. Especially favored: instructors, students.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Nothing to too quick to criticize. Do not allow to recognize flaws that should be amended, eliminated. Study the systems and the processes of yourself and others, also the merit of new ideas.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Especially advocated now: quieting, exaggeration, tightening up loose ends, supplying artistic touches, strengthening will power in order to handle urgencies.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Play safe in NOT ruffling up those who are already on edge. Do not "hold that rifle" where rules command. Follow up on recent intelligence breakthroughs.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You shouldn't face many obstacles now, but he or she could not fail into "little" erroneous ways, misunderstandings. And remember that signifying doesn't lead to a shortcut to efficiency.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Advise a tendency to be overly critical now. You could regret it later. Your active mind wants expression, direct, it wants forthright, discernment. And DO be discreet.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — The acquisition of material goods keeps to many so busy that they review your goals. Are you pursuing some false values? Being dogmatic of true course? Study if YOURSELF.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Some developments have gone from a crawl, to a trot, to a gallop. You may find new problems complicated. But as your progress, you can find solutions.

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius) — Tighten up loose ends. Don't let the dry become emotion-charged. Where possible, stick to routine and don't go off on tangents. This day needs close thinking.

December 32 to January 30 (Capricorn) — The position of Saturn calls for your best management and possibly more fact and straightforwardness than required recently. This period is a down-to-earth one, but see that it does not become objectionably so.

January 31 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Avoid excitement, anxiety. Stress thoughtful, deliberate moves and the type of noise that attracts new clients, customers. Improved situations. Scrutinize all propositions carefully.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — The possibility of a revised program need neither inflate optimism nor incur fears. Advancement is only assured by employing the best offered, and building upon it.

YOU BORN TODAY are principally a Pisces, with a hint of the outgoing Aries character, leading occasionally more aggression (excellent) or otherwise, depending upon how employed and independent activity. The Pisces nature grows upon the subtle. The Aries person is often more direct. Both are sensitive, have tremendous propriety and have an individual way of doing things, and admiration. You should head straight for goals without qualms. Gains are there, and satisfaction for effort, which gives most contentment. 1963 needs some to reach beyond the usual, but get all the facts as you travel. Guessing is definitely out; intuition can aid. Take precautions in journey, dealing with relatives, opposite sex. Circulate Wm. Jennings Bryan U.S. statement, "silver-to-nuged

ERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every time you solve a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and move one by one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message letters under the checked figures. Give you.

Cincinnati Pilot Says Reds Loaded

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The feed box tip in Florida is that the Cincinnati Reds are loaded. It will be no surprise if the usual pre-season poll of the baseball writers next month ignores the San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers and picks the Reds to win the pennant.

Even Fred Hutchinson is enthusiastic. The "Big Bear" who manages the Reds is no man to go off the deep end. He is more optimistic than in 1961 when Cincinnati won it all in the National League. Don't forget the Reds finished third only 3½ games back last season.

Lost Freese
"Losing Gene Freese in spring training (broken ankle) was a bad blow last year," said Hutchinson. "Then we got off badly. At the end of April, Frank Robinson, our big hitter, was batting only .186. At one time we were 12 games back but we picked up nine games. At the end we had won 98 games, five more than in 1961 when we won the pennant."

Where did Hutchinson think his team was better?

"Well, we have Freese back,"

he said. "So far, he seems to be completely recovered. Our pitching should be stronger with Jim Maloney, our fourth starter, more settled. Our back-up pitching should be stronger, too, with fellows like Joe Nuchal, Jim Owens and John Tisouris. In fact, we have a good scramble for those other pitching jobs."

Big Pitchers
The big plus for the Reds is the big three of the pitching staff which won a total of 60 games. They are Bob Purkey (23-5), Joey Jay (21-14) and Jim O'Toole (16-13). With a more mature Maloney (9-7), now 22, Hutch should be in great shape for starters.

Owens, formerly with the Phillies, has looked good. So has the veteran Nuchal. Hutch expects a boost from Tisouris (13-8 at San Diego) and wants to take a good look at Al Worthington, drafted from Indianapolis after a 15-4 season. Sammy Ellis, 21-year-old flash who was 12-6 at San Diego, may need more seasoning. George McWilliams (12-7) is another possibility.

The relief crew fell down last year when Jim Brosnan had a 4-4 record and lefty Bill Henry 4-2. Hutch is confident they will regain their 1961 form.

Pinson Out

Vada Pinson missed the early part of training because he underwent an appendectomy but he is expected to be ready. If young Tom Harper, a .333 hot shot at San Diego, makes the club, he might wind up in left or center, possibly shoving Pinson to left. Frank Robinson, the big hitter with .342, 39 homers and 136 RBIs will be in right. Wally Post will play left if Harper fails and Marty Keough and Jerry Lynch will back them up.

The infield will have Gordy Coleman at first, Don Blasingame at second, Leo Cardenas (an underrated athlete) at short, and Freese at third. Blasingame has been getting a wrestle for the second base job from young Pete Rose, a Savannah grad.

Hutchinson is high on John Edwards, his No. 1 catcher, as a big star of the future. Edwards, only 24, came on strong with added experience. Hank Foiles and probably Jesse Gonder, who also takes a whirl in the outfield, will back up Edwards.

Harry Bright, ex-Washington handyman will be available for any job. And there is another young infielder, Chico Ruiz of San Diego, who must be given a long look.

This is a good solid ball club with pitching strength and solid hitting power. It may be a little weak on making the double play but it will rise or fall on the pitching. If Freese and Henry bounce back, watch out. The Reds are hungry again and they firmly believe they can handle the Giants and Dodgers. Now, if they don't lose any more doubleheaders to the Mets, who killed them last year, they might go all the way.

Games Slated
Marquette, 1-8, plays St. Louis, 16-11, in the opener Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., while Providence, 21-4, meets Miami of Florida, 23-4, in the second game.

Winners clash Thursday in the semifinals as part of a twin bill with the Villanova-Canisius contest. Canisius is fourth seeded, while Villanova upset top-seeded Wichita Saturday 54-53. Canisius won its opener from Memphis State 76-67. The NIT finals are Saturday afternoon.

Cincinnati and two other teams ranked among the top 10 at the end of the regular season, Duke and Chicago Loyola, plus Georgia Tech tee off at Louisville Friday in the semifinals.

Cincinnati tackled Oregon State while, Duke, rated No. 2, and No. 3 Loyola, fire away in the other pairing. The winners meet for the championship Saturday night.

Four of the five starting members of the Canisius team were struck with flu Monday and one might miss Canisius' semifinal round game Thursday in the National Invitation Tournament.

Those stricken were high-scoring Bill O'Connor, Tony Gennari, Tim O'Mara and Tom Chester. In addition, Pat Tuttle, who missed part of the season because of a broken foot, also was hit by flu.

Dr. Jerome Glauber said Gennari, a guard, was the most seriously ill. Gennari was ordered to bed. The others were directed to get as much rest as they could.

The fifth starter, Dick McClosky, has had a sore back for several weeks. He has been playing regularly, however.

Orioles Undefeated In Spring Training

The unbeaten Baltimore Orioles won their ninth spring exhibition baseball game Monday as Johnny Orsino hit three homers.

The three accounted for all of Baltimore's runs in a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati at Tampa. All came off Jim O'Toole who gave up a total of nine hits in the second innings he pitched for the Reds.

In other exhibitions Monday the New York Mets shut out the New York Yankees 1-0 at St. Petersburg; the Chicago White Sox downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-4 at Sarasota; Detroit defeated St. Louis 8-5 at Lakeland, and Philadelphia beat Minnesota 6-5 in 13 innings at Orlando.

Milwaukee blanked Washington 1-0 in 11 innings at West Palm Beach; the Los Angeles Angels downed Boston 7-1 at Palm Springs; Houston trounced San Francisco 14-5 at Phoenix; Cleveland walloped the Chicago Cubs 1-5 and Kansas City and Pittsburgh played a 4-4, 12-inning tie at Fort Myers in a game that was called because of darkness.

Cookie Rojas' homer with two out gave the Phils their victory over the Twins. In contrast it was an error by catcher Ken Retzer of Washington that accounted for the Braves' victory. Norm Larker, who appeared to be an easy out at the plate, scored when Retzer dropped the ball.

Deacon Jones' homer with none out in the sixth gave the White Sox their win over the Dodgers. It was the only earned run off Sandy Koufax who pitched the first seven innings for the Dodgers and struck out 13.

Rocky Colavito, Norm Cash and Gus Triandos homered to lead the Tigers to their triumph over the Cardinals while Roger Craig and Al Jackson combined a five-hit shutout of the Yankees for the Mets. Larry Burright singled home Tim Harkness in the seventh inning for the only run of the game.

Tide Team Denies 'Brutality' Charge

By PHIL ORAMOUS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—There is no such thing as intentional brutality on the University of Alabama football team, one of the squad's stars said Monday.

Lee Roy Jordan, the Tide's All-America center and linebacker, said, "The man who costs us a personal foul penalty is benched and doesn't play any more that day."

Jordan made the statement during an interview concerning the team's reaction to an article appearing in the Saturday Evening Post which charges his coach, Paul Bryant, with attempting to fix last season's Georgia-Alabama football game.

Bryant and Wallace Butts, former University of Georgia coach and athletic director who also was named in the article, have denied the charges.

The brutality question first arose when an article appeared in the Post in October which said Bryant encouraged brutality among his players.

Flee Suit

Bryant has filed suit against the Post and Furman Bisher, sports editor of the Atlanta Journal, the author, for $500,000 in connection with an earlier Post story.

Bryant told a statewide television audience Sunday in referring to the current controversy that, "This article is another malicious attempt to destroy me and my reputation for honesty and integrity in order to affect the presentation of my case in the pending suit."

Jordan, who said he could speak for the whole team, defended Bryant against the current charges and the allegation of brutality.

"Sure," he said, "The coach drives us hard. He tells us to play hard, to play to win. But he tells us to do it right and do it cleanly."

Liston May Face Order For Physical

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

Heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston probably will be ordered to return to Miami Beach from Chicago to face a physical examination by a doctor appointed by the Miami Beach Boxing Commission, Fred Aaronson, commission chairman, said Monday.

Aaronson said under the contract the commission has the right to examine Liston, who claims he injured his knee three weeks ago swinging a golf club. The injury caused an indefinite postponement of the title fight with Floyd Patterson. Doubts were raised whether the fight would be in Miami Beach.

Liston left for Chicago Sunday and said he would undergo an examination there.

"I want him back here," said Aaronson. "We have not stepped into this thing before because we weren't quite sure if anything was wrong with him. A lot of times, things like this happen to ballyhoo ticket sales. We could have asked for an examination earlier, but it seemed premature."

Patterson made plans to continue training in Miami. He said, "Under the terms of the contract I have the right to name the fight site. I've said it would be Miami Beach and I am prepared to wait for Liston here. This is a good fight town as any."

Monroe County Science Fair March 21-22

To Be Held At Armory; Many Students To Exhibit

THE ANNUAL Monroe County Science Fair, sponsored jointly by The Daily Record and the Industrial Management Club, will be held at the National Guard Armory, East Stroudsburg, this Thursday and Friday.

Volunteer workers will begin setting up equipment for the fair at the Armory this afternoon, and the students will arrange their exhibits on Wednesday. The fair will officially open on Thursday at 1 p.m., and will remain open until 9:30 p.m. On Friday, the exhibition will also open at 1 p.m., and the official closing and awarding of prizes will be at 9:30 p.m.

The judges for the fair will be guests of the sponsoring organizations at a dinner in the East Stroudsburg faculty dining room at 6:30 Wednesday night. Up to this point, local science fairs have been held in the individual schools in the area, and the students have been working diligently on their entries for the big county exhibition. Those students with outstanding exhibits will be awarded honors and prizes, while all exhibitors will be given some recognition. While the exhibits presented are part and parcel of the thinking of the individual students, they are assisted and guided by their science teachers, who provide technical advice.

Details of the fair, as well as the rules and regulations which govern it are outlined below:

What The Fair Is
The Monroe County Science Fair is an annual exhibition of science work done by the girls and boys of the schools of Monroe County. It gives these students an opportunity to display exhibits and demonstrations built and prepared by them. Participants gain experience that may lead to a career in science or industry.

The Fair provides an opportunity to give practical expression to classroom theory. It awards prizes to students whose projects are selected as winners by a group of competent judges.

Who May Enter
Any boy or girl presently enrolled in a senior or junior high school in Monroe County may enter a project. Separate awards are given so that Junior High students do not compete with Senior High students.
